Pacific Shintaido

Kangeiko 2004

...at Mount Madonna Center...

"It's mission... to catch sight of something which has always existed...without ever being seen by our two eyes, and express this with our own body."

- Hiroyuki Aoki, Founder

Mount Madonna Center

2004 marks Pacific Shintaido's third visit to this peaceful mountain top retreat. While surrounded by 355 acres of open meadows and redwood forests, guests of Mount Madonna will enjoy a 100% vegetarian menu, accommodations to suit individual needs, and 24 hour access to the on-site gymnasium dojo. Massage facilities are also available.

Kangeiko

This word translates literally to mean "cold weather practice." A traditional Kangeiko curriculum includes kenjutsu (sword practice). Participants will have the opportunity to study kenjutsu by using the Shintaido bokutoh (wooden sword).
